

MAP 3.3 Anticipated Electrical Energy Development Pressures

If solar development continues to utilize farmland and prioritize proximity to transmission infrastructure, these are areas likely to experience solar development pressure during the master plan time horizon.

